

Living Well in New Orleans

"We're designing for your home, so it is your personality and interests that will stand out – not ours."

when ordinary won't do

Current, without being trendy. Sophisticated, but not fussy. A talented interior designer dresses your home with flair and finesse that reflect your style ... and your lifestyle.

Creating a home's ambience involves more than selecting furniture styles and choosing colors and fabrics.

"Selecting your home's décor is about surrounding you with what you love, what gives you joy and peace and a sense of comfort," says Jennifer DiCerbo, owner and interior designer at The French Mix. "Decorating or renovating a home's décor is a collaborative effort with your own choices and ideas as our starting point."

uniquely you The award-winning design team at The French Mix works within your budget to create a look that expresses your sense of style.

"We're the designer you want if you don't want your home to be just like your neighbors'," says Jennifer.

The French Mix has a 3,000 square foot showroom that welcomes visitors to explore. Jennifer attends markets six times a year, working with thousands of product lines from all over the world. She continually searches for interesting pieces, from furniture and rugs to artwork and accessories, to stimulate clients' imagination and exceed their expectations.

Because The French Mix showroom has such a wide selection, it can provide design changes for a single room or a whole house, creating an ambience that feels naturally evolved, never contrived.

"People often think an interior designer will put his or her own 'stamp' on their homes, and be prohibitively expensive in the process," observes Jennifer.

"While it's true that a unique look will cost more than a 'big box store' treatment, we can work within budgets to create stunning results to complement your lifestyle. This is especially important for families with growing children who will add to wear and tear.

"There are beautiful fabrics that look like velvet but are actually durable, washable fabrics," Jennifer points out. "We have many options for creating beautiful yet functional designs to fit any lifestyle."

Jennifer notes, too, that The French Mix creates designs that will stand the test of time. "We don't use trendy colors or fabrics on large pieces of furniture or 'investment' items," she says. "We'll use eye-catching colors and designs on less expensive items that can be easily and affordably replaced as styles and tastes change.

"Our goal is to design spaces your family will love to live in, and enjoy for years."
